

First optical elements

Author: jmiguel<jmiguel@iaa.es>

Last October we received the first optical elements, the uncoated mirrors.

At the beginning of October we received the M1,M2 and M3 mirrors, pending to be coated. The interferometric tests done to them was good, and not important problems were found. The next images shows the mirrors in the lab:

- M1 on its auxil

M3 in a raw interferometric setup:

